With 5 books, 11 chapters in books, 183 refereed and scholarly journal articles, 68 refereed conference papers, 3 editorships of conference proceedings, and 19 completed PhD theses - as well as numerous conference abstracts and presentations - and technical reports, the research publications output of the School of Civil and Environmental Engineering is at a very high level, meriting the Australian Research Council's description of 'outstanding performance well above world standard.'

Mariani, A, Carley, IT, & Miller, BM (2010) 'Infilling and Sand Bypassing of Coastal Structures and Headlands by Coastal Drift', 19th NSW Coastal Conference, Batemans Bay NSW, 10-12 November.

Tarbotton, C, Dominey-howes, D, Goff, J, & Turner, IL (2010) 'Using a stochastic approach to reduce the ferric iron coordination environment (and evidence for tetrahedral iron) in ferricyanide', Australian Synchrotron Users meeting, Melbourne, Australia, November, (2010).

Gambastiani, B, McCulam, AM, Andersen, MS, & Kelly, B (2010) 'Using groundwater modelling to enhance the understanding of the Madases Creek alluvial aquifer, Upper Namoi, NSW', 1st Australia & New Zealand FEPPDUV Users Workshop, Sydney, 4 - 6 May (2010).

